DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Group I: claims 1-26 in the reply filed on 07/30/08 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the restriction requirement is improper. This is not found persuasive because these inventions are distinct.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Krist et al. [US 6,038,540].

As per claims 1-26, Krist discloses a system for use in a process plant [see abstract], comprising:

a) a first data source including economic data related to economic factors associated with the operation of the process plant [see abstract (e.g. economic inputs)];

Art Unit: 3687

b) a second data source including process control data related to control operations within the process plant [see abstract (e.g. control system features an interactive optimization modeling system for determining manipulated process variables)];

c) a model that models the operation of the plant using the economic data and the process control data and that produces a model output [see paragraphs 5 and 6 of the summary section of the invention (e.g. output means, for transmitting command signals which include at least one manipulated parameter variable that is used to govern the physical process equipment, an adaptive controller comprising: second input means for acquiring the monetary value of at least one fluctuating economic variable)];

d) an application that uses the model output to perform a function with respect to the operation of the process plant [see paragraph 8 of the summary section of the invention (e.g. interactive optimization means, said real-time executive means having means for periodically transferring at least some of said input signals from said inputs means to said interactive optimization means and means for transferring at least one manipulated parameter variable from said interactive optimization means to said output means)];

e) and an information server communicatively connected between the first and second data sources and the model [as illustrated in figure 7 (e.g. block 72)], the information server including a router [as illustrated in figure 7 (e.g. block 74)]; wherein the first and the second data sources are adapted to automatically send the economic data and the process control data to the information server via first and second messages and wherein the router is adapted to process the first and second messages to determine that the economic data and the process control data contained within the first and second messages is to be sent to the model and to automatically deliver the economic data and the process control data to the model [see paragraph 150 of the detailed discussion section of the invention, read as: Setpoint Output Operation Step 910, the new economic setpoints are transmitted to Process Control Computer 71. SOLO Executive Engine 820 reads and references Data Common 821 to acquire the economic setpoints and writes and transmits said setpoints to PCC write engine 826.

PCC write engine 826 references and reads Data to Write to PCC 810 to define and confirm validity of logical identifiers for the setpoints, formulates a message to be transmitted as Write to PCS Data Vector 75, and formulates, writes, and transmits Write to PCS Data Vector 75 to Communication Interface 72. Communication Interface 72 subsequently first reads and then writes and transmits the message containing the new economic setpoints to Process Control Computer 71 for use in control of the manufacturing system 70 in an economic manner].

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The PTO 1449 forms have been reviewed and considered.
